After installing iTranscend, why does Windows sometimes prompt to restart?

LegalCraft · Wednesday, December 2nd, 2009

Windows 2000 and later do not allow any ActiveX control to be replaced when in use. iTranscend is an ActiveX control. If Windows considers the ActiveX control to be in use, you will receive the above message.

Generally, you can safely ignore this message (by choosing No) and continue with your work. If this message persists, restart your computer.
